

Privacy Policy

Thank you very much for visiting our website. Data protection is very important for us. We the Sirah Polska Sp. z o. o. manage the protection of data provided to us as an element of a reliable business conduct. The principles of private data protection, e.g. limiting the amount of data stores to its minimum, transparency and security of the data are treated with the highest priority. Following this we provide detailed information about the usage of your personal data at our company.

Sirah Polska Sp. z o. o. saves your data in a limited fashion for answering your messages provided to us by our contact form on Sirah.pl. You can visit our website without giving us any of your personal data. However, we will store some general data in so called log files. This data includes the Name of the opened file or subwebsite, date and time of the visit, the amount of data sent or the provider which sent the request. This data is only needed to display our website in the correct way for you and to provide you with the optimal offers. It is not used to identify you.

We save the personal data which was provided to us by

- the contact form on our website
- the e-mails received

The amount of data we store is determined by the kind of form used to contact us. We use the provided data to answer your e-mails and questions.

You can delete your data stored by us at any time by contacting us in a way stated at the end of this document.

The Sirah Polska Sp. z o. o. uses your data to create the best possible offer and answer to your e-mail. We use your data for the following:

- Execution of your order
- Sending e-mails in connection with the mailing campaigns offered by us
- Execution of an analysis and for statistic purposes
- Optimizing our proposition

To execute your order we forward your data to the commissioned delivery company, if necessary to deliver the wares. To handle the payment we forward your data to our external accounting company.

You have the right of getting information as well as correcting, blocking or deleting the personal data stored by us. If you have any questions about raising, processing or usage of your personal data, in case of demanding information, correcting, stopping and deleting your personal data and in case of recalling the acceptance or objection against a certain usage of your personal data, feel free to contact us!
